A Few of Our Favorite Things

genius in a bottle

Its good looks will grab you, but a gulpable, wide mouth and one-handed hinge opening will win you over when it comes to this premium water bottle. The KOR One Hydration Vessel aims to steer you away from harmful, pesky plastic in favor of a smart, clean design that's BPA-free. As a member of 1% For The Planet, KOR donates one percent of their sales to non-profits that focus on water-related issues.

worth wading for

The first women-specific product from fishpond, the Firefly Vest adheres to the company's thoughtful (and colorful) design aesthetic. Built for comfort and functionality without surrendering style, the vest comes in a light, breathable fabric with several features including fishpond's signature zip-down fly bench. Eight pockets on the front and a large back pouch offer ample room for raingear and other river essentials.

om my god

If you're looking for a yoga mat that will protect your body and the planet, look no further than the Manduka eKO Mat. Made from natural rubber, this mat uses a toxic-free softening process that won't leave a landfill footprint. Not to mention its cushiony goodness goes easy on your wrists and knees, for a yoga experience that's more peaceful and less painful.

leader of the packs

When Deuter created their Futura 24 SL pack, they truly had a woman's body in mind. A slightly shorter back system accommodates a woman's shorter torso, and the S-shaped shoulder straps are narrower and shorter to fit comfortably over the shoulders and around the chest. Finally, the waist and hip belts are shaped at an angle to account for curves. This particular pack is ideal for hiking, but be sure to check out the other styles in the SL series built for alpine, bike and trekking adventures.

hoodie love

Cloudveil introduces their new Edamame Collection, an eco-friendly line of activewear made from oh-so-soft soybean-based fabric. The Edamame hoodie is the perfect layering piece for yoga, bouldering, or a brisk morning run. Diagonal seams and the right amount of stretch make it as flattering as it is functional.

it's about time

The Proformer from tech4o is more than just a watch. Made for running, swimming and biking, it features personal programming options that allow you to not only calculate interval/lap times, but also compare the results to your previously set goals.

get a grip

Climb every mountain with prAna's Sultan Chalk Bag. You'll find prAna has gone green with several of their spring items including this medium-sized chalk bag, made from 100 percent recycled poly. The Sultan's super modern design features dual attachment straps and a tight cinch closure.

quite a pair

Newton co-founder and cancer survivor Jerry Lee teamed up with Athletes for a Cure spokesperson Michellie Jones to design The Cure Distance running shoe. Newton uses "Active Membrane Technology" to make running in this lightweight, cushion racer simulate running barefoot. The limited edition Cure Distance (in Jones' signature pink) is the right fit for any running goal, from 5Ks to marathons. $10 from each pair purchased goes to prostate cancer research.
